NEGRO GETS FLYNN IN EIGHT ROUNDS

Sam Langford Knocks Out
Pueblo Fireman—Flynn
Bleeds Freely.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 18.—There was lots of blood and at last a dislocated jaw for Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, who lasted only eight rounds of a 45 round go with Sam Langford, Boston's negro fistie artist. Langford knocked out Flynn at the old Jeffries arena here—and on St. Patrick's day, too. The Celtic mit fans howled long and loud. It was fierce.

Fireman Flynn had little chance from the start. Breaking away from a clinch the negro jammed a right swing to the fireman's cheek, opening a gash and starting the blood flowing. Before the first round was ended Langford found Flynn's face, often bringing both gloves down on the Irishman's head. Everybody cheered on Flynn from that on.

Flynn bleeds freely. Bleeding from nose and mouth, his face cut and swollen by the fearful hammering of the negro, Flynn gamely stuck through to the eighth round. He fought clinching, smothering many hard blows. But at the eighth go he was too weak to continue his timeworn system of defence. Before he had rushed within Langford's reach and held his head beneath the negro's chin. He tried it in the eighth, but was too tuckered for even that.

About the middle of the last round Langford leaped back and prepared to deliver a hammer blow. Flynn tried to follow, swinging a wild one with his right. The negro's left swept out and the Irishman went down, partly by the momentum of his own stroke. The fall dislocated the white man's jaw. Referee Charles Hyton counted the fireman out. He was down seven seconds in all.

Fully 10,000 people jammed the arena for the big fight and the preliminary goes. As a preliminary, Al Rogers so wickedly punished Kid Kenny that the referee held it up in the third round.

"LUNGERS" TEAM TO REORGANIZE

Ft. Stanton Players to Show
"Healthy Ones" the Real Game.

Reorganization of the Lungers' baseball team of Fort Stanton has begun. Last year the Stanton players showed whole lung players a thing or two on the diamond. This year they are going to try again, with that "Lungers" mark right across their sweaters, just over the punctured lung.

The Fort Stanton bunch of diamond patrons are no slow ones, as any contestant will acknowledge. In the reorganization of last year's nine comes fear of defeat for the healthy ones.

Who Is the Champion?

Who is most entitled to claim the long fought for title as "world's champion" steer roper? Clay McGonigal claimed this title for five years on the strength of a 2 1/2 seconds tie which he made, while Ellison Carroll claimed the championship on the fact that he defeated Clay McGonigal in a 28 steer contest at San Antonio. Mr. Carroll also advertises himself as holding a record of 17 seconds. This Mr. Carroll acknowledges was not at all according to rules of roping, as the steer had no start at all, and was not tied in a contest but in practice; this, according to rules, is of no consideration to the roping world. Next comes Ed Hall, of Salt, N. Mex., who tied two steers last year, one at Nogales, Ariz., the other at Cowboy Park, Juarez. In the time of 21 seconds. This is the fastest time recorded in the southwest, made before three judges and before a crowd, giving Mr. Hall a 20 foot start, according to rules. This, the management of Cowboy Park claims as the world's record, and therefore proclaims Ed Hall holder of the world's record.

Since then, on February 28, 1909, at Cowboy Park, Charles Vespa, of Newman, N. Mex., and Thos. L. Greer, manager of Cowboy Park, have tied Mr. Hall's record of 21 seconds.
Rafael Fraustro, the Mexican champion, defeated Mr. Hall in a 15 steer contest by 28 seconds.
The question now is "who is the champion?" This the management of Cowboy Park will try to decide in a 10 steer contest to take place soon.
